BUCCANEER WAVE POOL - Some 150 members of the National Recreation and Parks Association were guests Monday of Buccaneer State Park, Architect Fred Wagner and Associate Jule Lagarde and the Wave-Tec, Inc., for the first public demonstration of the Buccaneer Wave Pool scheduled to open next Spring. The Association members, attending a New Orleans convention, brought their swim trunks for an in-the-water demonstration, top photo. Wave action in the pool leaves the swimmer feeling he is overboard in a stormy ocean. During clamor moments of the mandatory rest periods in the pool, Lagarde and Mrs. Virginia Wagner catch their breath in lower photo. Park Ranger Greg Smith said the pool, when in full operation next summer, will require a pool manager, maintenance crew and some 14 lifeguards. (Staff photos by Ellis Cuevas)

HOMELESS ON HALLOWEEN - It was a spooky night all alone in a box for these four puppies and their unseen brother and mother last night when they were without a home on Halloween. Many a ghost and goblin passed by their box in Bay St. Louis, but none of the spirits stopped to adopt the little mixed-breed puppies. The puppies and their mother were discovered abandoned on the side of a road shortly after birth, and now, with the aid of the Bay-Waveland Humane Society, these three males and two females, along with their mother, Lady, may find a spook or witch to take them home. Also the Society has a six-month-old mixed beagle and dachshund and an all-white mixed pointer and labrador retriever puppy free to a good home. For information call 467-9494. Webre, Frankiewicz to meet Friday

Officials seek compromise on coastal industry plan

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Mississippi State Bureau of Marine Conservation is optimistic that a Coastal Zone Management bill will be accepted by Hancock County's Board of Supervisors and Port and Harbor Commission.

"I'm real confident that most of the fears will be accommodated by the way we write the guidelines," said Victor Frankiewicz of Bay St. Louis, consultant to the bureau.

The Hancock Port Commission, the managing agency for Port Bienville Industrial Park, has not taken a formal position for or against the CZM proposal.

However, at a recent commission meeting Director Wilson Webre, Commission Attorney Robert Genin and several commissioners voiced disapproval of the bill.

In reviewing the bill, Genin said the commission wanted "present and future" lands in Port Bienville Industrial Park excluded and a public vote on the bill.

Webre stated, "No one is against the bill but, the Commission is asked to bite the bullet in accepting this proposal."

"People get alarmed when they read the whole set of statutes listed in the law but, everything in CZM has been operating for the last four to five years with the exception of control of non-water related industries on waterfront sites."

Frankiewicz is now working up a text of guidelines for the CZM proposal and when completed he will meet with the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission.

Frankiewicz has scheduled an interim meeting with Webre Friday morning to further discuss CZM.

"Before the federal government adopts the final plan next summer, there will have to be a round of state and federal public hearings, the State Wildlife Conservation Commission will have to approve it then the governor will have to sign the bill for federal approval."

according to Frankiewicz.

"The Port and Harbor Commission is not losing control of the Port Bienville Industrial Park, only non-water dependent industries on waterfront sites will be required to obtain a permit," Frankiewicz says.

He adds, "It is true that they are giving up authority on certain industries but, the compensating factor is that they are adopting a long-term plan of industrial development."

The CZM program will give authority to the Mississippi State Bureau of Marine Resources to issue permits to non-water related industries on waterfront industrial sites.

Webre notes that the CZM law only regulates industrial parks.

But Frankiewicz contends that the major environmental problem right now is industrial parks.

Services set today for John A. Scafide

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Funeral services are scheduled at 3 p.m. today for John A. (Baby Grand) Scafide, 68, at Edmond Fahey Funeral Home, Bay St. Louis, followed by burial in Gardens of Memory Cemetery.

Visitation from 1 to 2:45 p.m. today at the funeral home.

Scafide died Wednesday, Oct. 31, 1979 at the Biloxi VA hospital where he had been a patient for several weeks.

Mayor of Bay St. Louis from 1953 to 1969, he joined the Mississippi Public Service Commission from which he retired.

A 1929 graduate of St. Stanislaus, he was named to the school's Hall of Fame in 1972.

In high school he excelled, playing three years as a first string lineman. At Tulane he was selected All America and All Southern in his Junior year.

As a Senior he was elected captain of the team and was picked for the All Southern team. He was alternate-captain elect of the last Tulane team to play in a Rose Bowl.

While at Tulane, Scafide was nicknamed "Baby Grand." The 1932 Yearbook has the following comments about him: "Built like a box-car this Italian powerhouse was a huge thorn in the side of every opposing eleven. He charged like a Mack Truck in low gear and the yardage gained over 'Baby Grand's' position was as scarce as hen's teeth."

After college he was signed to a pro contract with the old Boston Redskins. His career was cut short by a broken ankle. Nollie Felts, an All America teammate, said recently that Johnny Scafide may well have been the best standing guard in football history.

In 1935 he was named head coach of Bay High football and his first opponent as Tiger mentor was Long Beach at St. Stanislaus stadium on Sept. 20, 1935.

Johnny Scafide's coaching career included Bay High, Bay St. Louis, St. Stanislaus, Kiln, Pearl River Junior College.

During World War II his tour of duty included coaching and training at several pre flight Naval installations.

He later was professional coach and scout for Buffalo Bills in the Old American League under his former college coach Red Dawson.

In March 1971, Scafide received the Distinguished American Award from the Mississippi Coast chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

JOHN A. SCAFIDE

As mayor of Bay St. Louis he was instrumental in creation of a Parks and Playgrounds Commission, which set about providing recreation facilities for the young people of the community.

The Bay St. Louis native was born June 21, 1911 and was one of the thirteen children of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Scafide, Italian immigrants.

Scafide was a former member of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission; past president, Mississippi Municipal Association; charter member Pass Christian Golf Club and Bay-Waveland Yacht Club; member Knights of Columbus; member Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis; former member Bay St. Louis Rotary Club; member of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce; and current member of the Gulf Regional Planning Commission. He served in the United States Navy 1942-45.

Survivors include his wife, Alice Blaise Scafide; one son, John A. Scafide Jr., both of Bay St. Louis; one daughter, Mrs. Alice Scafide Kronenberger of Houston, Tex.; six sisters, Miss Amelia Scafide, Mrs. Mary Carter, Mrs. Catherine Matherne, and Mrs. Frances Frankiewicz, all of Bay St. Louis, Mrs. Josie Blaise, Port Allen, La., and Mrs. Margie Laguens, New Orleans, La.; and six grandchildren.

Commission director endorses port channel

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission Director Wilson Webre states he is "strictly an advocate" of a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers proposed navigation channel dredging from the Intercoastal Waterway through Little Lake and Pearl River to the county's Port Bienville Industrial Park.

Monday morning Webre contacted Bob Meader of the Corps who said a 404 Quality Assessment had not yet been made for finalization of the project.

"Hopefully, the final study will approve the Corps' recommendations," Webre said, "but we are also aware there must be other public meetings, which are being scheduled in Sildell in early December."

Webre's comments follow a recent recommendation by the Corps supporting the Little Lake route in preference to an eastern route through the mouth of the Pearl River.

The proposed channel will be dredged to a depth of 12 feet by 150 feet wide connecting the Rigolets with Port Bienville channels.

The Engineers will accept comments and requests for a hearing on the project until Nov. 28.

Correspondence should refer to Public Notice FP79-PB09-11 and should be directed to the District Engineer, U.S. Army Engineer District, Mobile, Corps of Engineers, P.O. Box 2288, Mobile, Ala., attention: SAMPD-EC.

Bay complex issued permit

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Bay St. Louis City Clerk Kelly McQueen reports a building permit has been issued to Bay St. Louis Limited, Inc. for construction of an $800,000 apartment complex at the corner of Union St. and Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis.

According to recent Mississippi Research and Development Center figures, Bay St. Louis reported the second largest dollar value in building

Use Your Microwave Oven For Cooking Vegetables

MISSISSIPPI STATE — Vegetables are available in great variety—from A (asparagus) to Z (zucchini). Many are low in cost and calories, and most rank high in vitamins and minerals.

One-half cup of most boiled vegetables contains less than 50 calories. Starchy vegetables supply from 50 to 100 calories in a half-cup serving.

You need four or more servings of vegetables and fruits each day. One serving should be a good source of vitamin C or two servings of a fair source. Eat one serving, at least every other day, of a good source of vitamin A. Broccoli is a good source of vitamin C and vitamin A. Vegetables which are fair sources of vitamin C and good sources of vitamin A value include: sweet potatoes cooked in the jacket, mustard greens, spinach and turnip greens.

Use your microwave oven to cook fresh, frozen and canned vegetables, suggests Ina Kimbrough, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service food and nutrition specialist. By following a few rules in cooking, you can have a tasty, nutritious, hot vegetable dish in minutes. The first rule in cooking fresh vegetables in the microwave oven is to use a small amount of water (in most cases about two tablespoons). Baked potatoes can be cooked without water.

Use plastic wrap, waxed paper or a glass lid on the pan to retain the steam and speed cooking. Time varies from 2 to 20 minutes, depending on the amount, density and arrangement of the vegetables, she explains.

Potatoes are an example of how amount affects cooking time. One potato takes four to five minutes and two potatoes take about six to eight minutes. Remember to prick potatoes with a fork before cooking. Leave about 1/2 to 1 inch between them. After about half the time, turn potatoes over and rearrange in the oven, Mrs. Kimbrough suggests.

Density of the cellular construction of a vegetable affects cooking time in a microwave oven. Stir once while cooking.

Vegetables continue to cook after they have been removed from the oven, so for best results, remove vegetables before they reach the doneness desired. Allow three to five minutes standing time for vegetables to complete cooking.

To get more even cooking of fresh vegetables with large stems, like broccoli, place the stem to the outside and the flower end to the center of the utensil or oven.

Do not sprinkle seasonings on top of vegetables. Seasonings tend to dehydrate and toughen the vegetable and distort the cooking pattern in a microwave oven. Instead, sprinkle seasonings in the bottom of the utensil or add after cooking, she suggests.

When cooking frozen vegetables, use a covered container and no top seasonings. Cooking is more even if frozen pieces are broken apart after the first few minutes of cooking.

If you prefer, cook frozen vegetables in the cardboard boxes or boil-in-bag pouches as purchased. Punch a few holes in the box and place it on a plate suitable for use in the oven. Silt the pouch before heating and break apart frozen sections by flexing the bag after cooking half the recommended time.

Pour commercially canned vegetables into a shallow container and cover. Omit top seasonings. Canned vegetables heat faster than frozen vegetables because they are stored at a higher temperature.

When correctly cooked in a microwave oven, vegetables keep their attractive color, fresh taste and natural texture. Because only a small amount of water is added, you don't drain off flavor and nutrients before serving, she adds.

The City-County Library of the Hancock County Library System has recently purchased THE SOURCE BOOK FOR THE DISABLED for the reference collection. This is an illustrated guide to easier, more independent living for physically disabled people, their families and friends. It has chapters on adapting your home, your personal needs, transportation, work, leisure and recreation, sexuality, the disabled parent, and the disabled child. In addition, it also includes an exhaustive list of resources for help and information on specific disabilities and a book list on subjects such as dental care, public transportation, horseback riding, and many other topics!

There are also many interesting tips included. For instance, did you know that Western Union will send telegrams in large print or Braille? This book is in our reference section, but may be checked out by any handicapped person. Those who have already borrowed it have nothing but praise for this book. It is a very welcome addition to the collection.

Welton Ladner celebrates birthday

A memorable affair was held Sunday Oct. 28th at St. Clare Parish Hall, Waveland, Miss. as near four hundred people signed the guest Book as they gathered in celebration of the 65th Birthday of Welton Ladner Sr.

"The Blue Lights" furnished the music & Welton's sisters catered the party. It was a very happy day for him one he will never forget as all of his children, sisters, brothers and their families as well as many other relatives and dear friends were able to be with him to celebrate the occasion.

May God bless Welton and his loved ones and we pray he will have many more happy birthdays.

ROGER DALE LADNER

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of my supporters for their vote of confidence in electing me as the Democratic nominee for Supervisor of District Three.

The General Election on Nov. 6th is less than a week away. Many candidates face Independent and Republican opposition, so you the Voters still must determine the leaders of our State and local County government for the next four years.

I sincerely urge ALL to get out and again vote for the candidates of their choice.

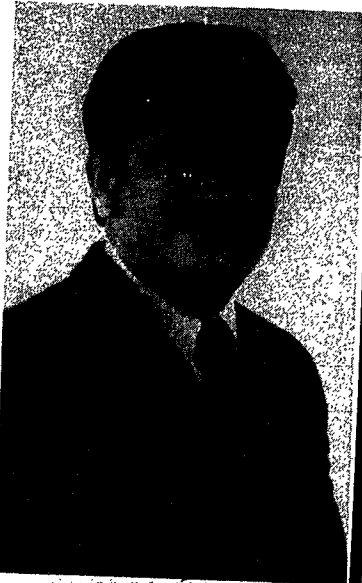

I am looking forward to the privilege of serving the people of District Three as a new Supervisor.

It is time to get to work on our Community's needs. A completed ball field in the County, better boat ramp for Cedar Point, a well managed dump, a road resurfacing program and close cooperation with the city will be priorities for me.

The first and second primaries were stepping stones. Take the Final step on Nov. 6th, please get out and vote!

Editorial

The community should be proud of the sportsmanship!

The annual football contest between the Bay High Tigers and the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws was a very competitive game.

On the field, Coach Snuffy Smith's Tigers and Coach Barry Jones' Rock-A-Chaws played the fundamentals of the game the entire contest with no let up.

This year the Rock-A-Chaws had the edge in size and number of team members and did come out of the contest victors, 16-0. Next year may be a different story.

The competition between the two neighboring schools is good for them and also for the community. We are fortunate to have two high schools in the same city rated in the same class, who are able to play each other in football.

The working relationship between the administrators of Bay High and St. Stanislaus is one to be admired. They realize the important role competition between youth in athletics plays in their development.

We have to commend the administrators of both schools as well as their coaching staffs, and most importantly, the young men who make up the football teams, for giving the citizens of the community one fine ball game.

We have never seen so many folks in Tiger Stadium at one time, especially for a football game.

The atmosphere at the game would have one think he was attending a college or professional contest.

Walking up and down the sidelines to follow the plays we could hear the roar for each play, something we haven't heard continuously ever at a high school game.

We are glad the administrators of the educational facilities were able to get together in 1968 and resume the annual contest between the two schools.

As a student and later an adult, we experienced sad feeling which were in the community when the two schools didn't play each other in football.

Prior to this year's game there were several pranksters, with very low mentality we assume, who did some unnecessary art work.

As one administrator told us, the monies spent by the respective schools to rectify the mischief could be spent on equipment for the classrooms or other needed items. What it really amounts too is money down the drain.

Now we realize that probably less than one tenth of one percent of the students were involved.

MAYBE IT WASN'T EVEN CURRENT STUDENTS FROM EITHER SCHOOL INVOLVED IN THE PRANKS.

We were at mid-field after the game, and if ever sportsmanship was displayed, at that time it really was among the coaches as well as the players.

We know many of the players for Bay High and St. Stanislaus play as teammates in baseball, softball and other sports.

These young men really have to be commended and the community should respect each of them for their conduct.

Murtagh defended in auto assessment question

Dear Sir:

I have just finished reading the second letter from a Mr. Canady in your "Letters To The Editor Column," and I think it is time for someone to come forth in defense of Mr. Murtagh.

I have known Mr. Eddie Murtagh for the past 20 years and found him to be an honest and fair man.

I am sure that Mr. Murtagh is only charging what he has to by the Laws of Mississippi, and if we are not satisfied with these charges, we should complain and write letters to our Representatives in Jackson.

After all, these are the only ones who can change the Laws, not Mr. Murtagh. Some will say when they read this, that I am only defending him because he is a friend and my answer to that is, "You D... Right I AM."

After all, the majority of the citizens of Hancock County must feel like I do because they saw fit to let him serve another four years in office unopposed in the last election.

North Bay PTO Halloween Carnival a success

October 29, 1979

To the Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

The North Bay Elementary Parent-Teacher Organization sponsored a Halloween Carnival on our campus on Friday afternoon, Oct. 26.

On behalf of the PTO, I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Billy Sills, our principal, and all of the teachers and parents who assisted or contributed in any way. Also, thanks to Mrs. Jo Jacobs, our school secretary for the many messages she took and delivered in the planning stages. She is always such a big help to the parents and we appreciate her ever pleasant and cordial manner.

Once again, thanks to all who helped. It was a great success and a fun time was had by all.

Sincerely,
Lana T. Noonan,
PTO president.

PTO reiterates views on instructional materials purchase

October 30, 1979

Sea Coast Echo

To the Editor:

In reference to the recent news story and letters to the editor in the Echo of Oct. 21 and 23 regarding the North Bay teachers' efforts to help furnish instructional materials for our children, we would first like to point out that we appreciate this effort on the part of the teachers to see that our children have the instructional materials they need.

To give of their time by conducting a fund-raising event proves to us once more their sincerity and professionalism in wanting their students to have the best education possible.

And, while this is encouraging to us as parents, there is one basic principle that must be stressed again as it was when the PTO president called the North Bay principal for information concerning this matter on Oct. 17.

We would like to submit to you our views concerning the financing of basic educational materials in a public school by means other than the tax dollars budgeted by the school board.

The views expressed by the PTO president in your article of Oct. 25 were, in fact, the views of many parents and taxpayers who approached us for information on this event. They incorrectly assumed that it was a PTO project.

We like to thank you for pointing out and correcting the inaccuracy of the letter of Oct. 25 from the 18 teachers in your column of Oct. 28, pertaining to the misquote of our president.

We are in accord with our president in opposing the use of fund raising events to purchase "budgetary" items. It is clearly the method we oppose, not the people.

The teachers state in their letter that the PTO is only opposed to the project because we are not the sponsor. Let us say that is not the case at all.

It is true that last year the PTO did sponsor the same project, and offered all of the proceeds together with all other funds in the PTO treasury to the school board.

We wanted to defray the cost of air-conditioning and heating the classrooms at North Bay school.

The PTO and school board both understood that this could not be easily handled out of the school budget.

However, the PTO has had no answer of any kind from the school board as yet regarding this offer.

We feel that this is entirely different from raising funds to purchase instructional materials. They are the very basics of education, which should be provided from the tax monies levied on the citizens by the school district.

The difference is fundamental to the issue involved. It is the heart of the issue. It includes having educational priorities kept in proper perspective to other expenditures by those who are responsible for the budget. It is a principle we feel cannot and should not be compromised. This is a sincere effort on our part to make ourselves clearly understood.

Finally, let us say in answer to the charge by the teachers that they have been ridiculed and antagonized that we sincerely hope this charge is not levied against the PTO or any of its spokesmen.

We would find it very difficult to reconcile this when at the beginning of the school year PTO supplied some of these very same teachers who signed the letter of Oct. 25 with fans for their classrooms on their request.

There have also been occasions when some teachers have come to the PTO for help with their professional problems. The PTO was happy to listen and help them, as we are now.

We thank the Echo for its professional coverage of sensitive subjects such as this in our community. Although the issues are controversial, it is vital for our citizens to learn everything about their public school system.

It is only when the citizens are completely informed that all of our children can benefit.

The North Bay PTO
Respectfully submitted by Mrs. Gloria Holland, publicity chairman

Dear Sir:

We are writing to you to let you know that there is a Junior High Football Team in town, whether you know it or not. That is Bay Junior High School.

We realize that some people may be more interested in high school athletics rather than junior high, but we feel that our team has worked just as hard as any other team, but has received no recognition!!!!!!

If we recall correctly, you referred to St. Stanislaus as the county champs because they beat Bay High and Hancock North Central.

Well, our Junior High team beat St. Stanislaus and Hancock North Central's Junior High teams, but we haven't received any recognition as being Junior High County Champions!!!!

We feel that it's about time that the Bay Junior High Tiger Football Team be recognized!!!!!!

Bits 'n pieces

We are glad to see where the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce board of directors endorsed the 40 mph speed limit on US-90 through Bay St. Louis.

The number of accidents on US-90 in Bay St. Louis with two months yet to go should be enough proof of the need of a reduction in speed.

Hancock and Harrison Counties always seem to rate one-two at the top of the heap of Counties in the State with the most forest fires.

Now it is good to be number one, but really the two counties are number one at the wrong end and should be for the least number of forest fires.

The recent $500 fine and suspended jail sentence of a Pass Christian resident should make all realize the seriousness of setting woods fires.

Everytime a forest fire is set there always is the threat to homes, wild life, and a commodity we are going to run out of if we are not careful, trees.

Almost every news publication one reads today tells of paper shortages of paper. Trees play an important part in the production of paper, especially newsprint which you are reading from right now.

Yes, newspapers are all having problems in securing enough to keep their presses rolling.

So please be extra careful with your fires, save our homes, trees, and wild life.

Congratulations are in order for Fran Trombley, chairman of the Hancock County Library System's Board of Trustees and secretary to Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett on her selection to the State Library Commission Advisory Council.

Ms. Trombley has worked very hard for our Library System and she will, we are sure, do a fine job also on the state advisory council.

We were very much impressed with the attitude of baseball star Willie Mays and also his conduct when told by the baseball commissioner that he would have to give up his job with the Mets.

Some other sport's figure would have been cutting down the commissioner, etc. for his decision and we feel that Willie Mays was the finest gentleman he could be in the situation.

The Bay St. Louis Men's Basketball League is now in the process of getting players lined up for the 1979-80 season.

This is something which a lot of working folks can participate in if they have had some prior experience during school days and enjoy themselves a few nights a week.

We are glad to see the league going again this season and would suggest any men interested to contact either Robert Whavers at 467-7339 or Myron Labat at 467-3732.

Legislators, PSC members should be consumer oriented

October, 1979

Sea Coast Echo

Dear Editor:

With summer behind us and cold weather yet to come I hope people do not forget about utility issues when they go to vote November 6.

Most consumers are tired of being at the mercy of the utility companies: election day is a chance to do something about this situation.

Candidates for the legislature and Public Service Commission should be closely questioned as to their position on utilities.

We can't afford to elect anti-consumer legislators and Public Service Commissioners any longer. Either body can initiate utility reforms that favor the small residential user.

Some particular utility reforms that candidates should be questioned about are:

1 - "Lifeline" rates, which would reverse the current rate structure, as energy consumption increases so would the per unit cost of energy. This would allow basic energy needs at a reasonable cost and strongly encourage conservation instead of the current rates which encourage consumption by large users;

2 - Utility financing reform, which would end the practice of utilities charging consumers rate increases before they receive PSC approval;

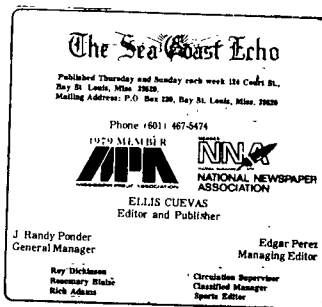

3 - Appeals reform, would not allow utilities to appeal unfavorable PSC decisions to the Hancock County Chancery Court. This appellate procedure usurps the role and authority of the PSC; and 4 - Limitations on business expenses, would discontinue the billing of consumers by the utilities for costs of political lobbying, country club memberships and other frills for executives.

These types of reforms have been enacted in other states. Several of these ideas have been introduced in past sessions of our legislature, somehow they never seem to come out of the public utilities committees for floor votes

Sincerely,
Fred Cooper

Safety Commission recalls underwater diving gear

Some 1,800 underwater spear guns and a number of second-stage scuba regulators deemed to be hazardous by the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission are being recalled by manufacturers.

The underwater spear guns, which can fire accidentally at users or bystanders, are being recalled voluntarily by AMF, Inc., of Des Moines, Iowa.

The recall is being conducted in cooperation with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission. AMF, Inc., is a manufacturer and importer of recreational and sporting equipment.

A defect in the guns' "trigger shock-line retainers" can cause unintentional firing if the shock-lines are wrapped too tightly around the retainer, or if the taut lines and gun barrel are held together. (The "trigger shock-line retainer" is a small mechanism which holds the lines in place.)

The company has received four complaints involving unintentional firing of the weapons since July, 1979. No injuries have been reported.

The recall affects "AMF Mares Underwater Spear Guns" sold under the following brand names and model numbers:

5300 "Long Tom"; 6334108 "Supersten"; 5302 "Sharp Shooter"; 6333503 "Competition."

53304 "Californian"; 6334009 "Sten"; 5306 "Frontiersman"; 6333008 "Medistien"; 5308 "Shortie"; 6331006 "Ministen"; 5310 "Snub Nose"; 6330005 "Minimisten".

Consumers should return the guns to the dealers from whom they were purchased for free modification.

Anyone requiring additional information about this recall should place a collect call to Sea Quest, Inc., Mares (a distributor of AMF Mares products in Solana Beach, California) at 714-481-8877.

Consumers may verify model numbers by contacting CPSC's toll-free Hotline at the following numbers: in the continental U.S., dial 800-638-8326; in Maryland, 800-492-8363; and in Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, 800-638-8333.

ELECT THOMAS L. (Tommy) CARVER Justice Court Judge District One

TO THE VOTERS OF DISTRICT 1:

Let me introduce myself and my family: My name is Thomas L. (Tommy) Carver. I am the son of Helen Ladner Carver and the late Charles O. Carver, Sr. of Bay St. Louis. I am the grandson of Irene Williams Ladner and the late Wesley (Jack) Lander of Lakeshore; and the late Sam Carver and Lucy Bourgeois Carver of Waveland.

I am married to the former Loi Usher, daughter of August and Emma Usher of Lower Bay Road.

As a young family man I know the problems that we face as young people; the problems our children will face as they reach adulthood. Now is the time to begin working for a better and safer place in which to raise our children.

Working with Chief Douglas Williams and his staff on the Bay St. Louis Police Department for 18 months I think I have gained valuable experience in the field of crime and criminals.

It is an indescribable feeling when you see second and third time offenders set free with a phone call to the "right people." I have picked up 13 year olds for public drunk and 16 year olds for possession of drugs or marijuana. I think we can all agree in saying something has to be done. NOT next month or next year, but NOW before it is too late. If you feel the way I do please vote for at THOMAS L. (TOMMY) CARVER and let's get something done.

If elected judge, the only promise I can make is that I will strive to make District 1 a place where regardless of race, sex, or religion the law will be carried out to the best of my ability. It would be unfair to promise anything I know I could not do. So I ask you, the voters of District 1 to decide who will be your next judge.

Remember your vote is a privilege, so please go to the polls to vote. Thank you.

Questionnaire important to continue VA benefits

Persons receiving Veterans Administration benefit payments today will receive an annual income report, which must be completed, according to Mike Ladner, Veterans Service Officer for Hancock County.

Persons receiving the card must complete it and return it to the VA before January 1, 1980, or have their benefit payments terminated.

Those receiving the income questionnaire card will be veterans, widows and children who are receiving nonservice-connected disability or death pension under the new pension law, which went into effect January 1, 1979.

Also receiving the card will be veterans and widows who are receiving pension under the laws which were in effect prior to January 1, 1979, and dependent parents of veterans whose deaths were caused by military service.

Veterans, widows and children being paid under the new pension law, as well as parents receiving dependency and indemnity compensation, should remember that their countable income may be reduced by any annual family medical expenses they pay out in 1979.

It is therefore important that the medical expenses be shown in the proper space on the income card. Upon receipt of the card showing medical expenses for 1979, the VA will recompute entitlement and, if necessary, increase benefit payments retroactively to January 1, 1979.

All VA claimants should report all of their income for 1979, and their anticipated income for 1980. Based upon the information shown on the card, a determination will be made as to whether VA benefits will continue in 1980.

THAD HASKINS FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION

As Principal of Hancock North Central, Thad Haskins has done the following for your children:

THAD HASKINS has recommended to the School Board only the finest professional teachers to educate your children.

THAD HASKINS has personally observed teachers in the classroom situation to be sure your child is properly instructed in the skills necessary to face today's changing world.

THAD HASKINS has appointed Department Chairmen in each subject to compile a written description of each course offered to help the student make the proper selection of subjects that will benefit that student's future.

THAD HASKINS has formed a Student Council to make sure the student body has a direct line of communication with his administration.

Consider his qualifications: his dedication, integrity, and educational experience, and help us elect THAD HASKINS, your Superintendent of Education.

NSTL observing Federal Women's Week through Fri.

The National Space Technology Laboratories' Council of Federal Women's Program Managers (FWPM) is observing Federal Women's Week through Nov. 2.

Ann Westendorf, NASA's Federal Women's Program Coordinator at NSTL, chairs the joint council which is made up of representatives of all federal agencies at the installation near Bay St. Louis.

The week long activities have been coordinated and supported by NASA; Navy; U.S. Geological Survey; National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration; Defense Contract Administration Services; U.S. ARRADCOM Resident Operations Office; and the Bayou Chapter, Federally Employed Women (FEW).

Special speakers, seminars, workshops and panel discussions with question and answer sessions will highlight the week's activities.

Federal employees in areas surrounding NSTL are invited to attend the sessions scheduled as follows:

-Thursday: A workshop on Factor Evaluation System (FES) standards on clerical and secretarial jobs will be conducted. Barbara Fincher, appeals classification of Atlanta Region, Office of Personnel Management (OPM), will give a slide presentation of the Factor Evaluation System. Afterwards she will speak on the history of FES, what OPM hopes to accomplish and what its future effect on government employees will be. NSTL representatives from the personnel offices of NORDA and NAVOCEANO will lead discussions on the implementation of FES.

-Friday: Velma Strode, director, Equal Opportunity, Department of Labor, will speak on "The Federal Women's Program Today and Tomorrow."

Strode served as senior community relations specialist in the Department of Justice. She has won numerous awards, now totaling 64, during her career.

For more information about the sessions and specific times, call Ann Westendorf, 688-2123.

Smugglers of endangered species hit by tight regulations

Sales of illegally imported wildlife in the U.S. now run into "tens of millions of dollars a year," earning for an international network of smugglers profit margins comparable to those in the drug trade, according to the current issue of National Wildlife magazine.

Illegal trade in products made from wildlife, such as ocelot fur jackets and crocodile shoes, is even greater in volume, reports the National Wildlife Federation's bi-monthly publication.

"The most sobering fact is that much of this traffic involves protected wildlife—including many species whose existence is threatened or endangered," the magazine observes. "The rarer the creature, the higher the price. And the higher the potential profit, the greater the incentive to smuggle."

As examples of rare and valuable wildlife often smuggled into the U.S., the magazine cites the unusual hyacinthine macaws from the jungles of southern Brazil, which bring as much as $3,000 a piece. And a shipment of 375 threatened Indonesian cockatoos seized two years ago was valued at $750,000.

There is a "seemingly insatiable appetite" in Europe, the U.S., and Japan for exotic wildlife, and the market is supplied by an international network of poachers, middlemen, brokers, and dealers, says the magazine report.

"The markups are staggering," the report adds "and the risks, at least in the past, have been low."

Most of the illegal wildlife comes from the jungles and tropical rain forests of Asia, South America, and Africa. For impoverished natives, collecting mammals, birds, and reptiles is a source of income.

Dealers in Bangkok, Singapore, Barranquilla (Colombia), Asuncion (Paraguay), and certain other cities buy up the harvest for a fraction of the final retail price, and they, in turn, supply dealers and brokers in Europe, the U.S., and Japan.

How are the animals smuggled into the U.S.? Many younger animals are crammed into small crates and die in transit. Endangered radiated tortoises from Madagascar were found under the false bottom of a crate containing poisonous snakes.

Rare Australian parrots were concealed in a shipment of race horses. Parrots were found stuffed in nylon stockings and stashed in automobile door panels.

"Up to ten animals may perish for every one that reaches its destination alive," National Wildlife estimates.

Most often, illicit wildlife and their products come into the U.S. shielded by false or misleading documents, and this is what makes the illegal trade so difficult to control.

Clark Bavin, Chief of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's Law Enforcement Division explained to National Wildlife that with just 210 agents and 35 inspectors at work it's nearly impossible to stem the flow of illegal imports.

"We suspect that there's a large volume of illegal traffic that we're nowhere near approaching," Bavin said.

In addition, penalties for those animal smugglers who are caught have been little more than hand slaps, the magazine reports.

There were 584 convictions for such crimes in 1977, all of which were classified as misdemeanors, with fines totalling just $31,117. Jail sentences totalled only 2,015 days.

Now, however, the word is out that the U.S. is cracking down on animal smugglers. The Fish and Wildlife Service, the Justice Department, and the Customs Service are all stepping up their efforts to catch and convict smugglers, brokers, and dealers.

Kenneth Berlin, who runs the Justice Department's Wildlife Enforcement Program, told National Wildlife that in the future, U.S. attorneys will be pressing for tougher sentences for wildlife smugglers. And the Fish and Wildlife Service is preparing new regulations requiring all wildlife importers and exporters to get federal licenses.

That way, a conviction for illegal trade could cause a license revocation and put the dealer out of business.

President Carter announced in his August environmental message that he would submit to Congress a bill strengthening the federal government's power to control illegal smuggling of wildlife and wildlife products. In addition, Carter announced the establishment of a Department of Justice "strike force," to crack down on violators, especially those trading in protected wildlife species.

With the risks of conviction and punishment much greater, officials now hope illicit wildlife trade will cease to be such a lucrative international crime.

Until then, the earth's beleaguered wildlife will be helpless victims. As Joseph O'Kane, a U.S. Customs agent, told National Wildlife, "You can't equate wildlife smuggling solely in terms of dollars. You must also think in terms of when something becomes extinct."

Ecuadorian parrot and ocelot cub are among animals smuggled into U.S.

Parental money management provides skills for child

By Norine Barnes
Consumer Specialist
"Money Talk"

Parents can provide learning experiences to help children understand and master money management skills. Recognize that your own money management practices represent many years of experience, starting in childhood. Parents wanting to help their children learn about money should consult books, magazine articles and other publications on the subject.

Suggestions from recognized experts can provide motivation, confidence and security that parents sometimes need.

Some of the skills parents need when helping children of all ages learn about money include the ability to:

- Guide and supervise rather than direct and dictate;

- Praise or reassure rather than criticize or rebuke;

- Allow children to learn by mistakes as well as successes;

- Make spending plans and keep family accounts;

- Conduct a family money management council—communicate, get members to agree and work toward short and long-range financial goals;

- Be consistent;

- Be objective about the purpose of money—do not use it for rewards or punishment;

- Involve children in planning Christmas budget.

Children learn by doing and it is important that parents provide activities that develop knowledge and skills in money management.

Hancock sheriff eyes arresting woodcutters

BY WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner warns the public not to trespass or cut timber in the NASA buffer zone area of Hancock County.

The sheriff's warning came after he received about five complaints in the past week from buffer zone property owners.

"We would like to advise people if they are caught cutting trees in the NASA buffer zone area or on any private property, they will be charged with grand larceny and will be prosecuted," Ladner stated.

Ladner further explained, "Even though the land isn't fenced in the buffer zone, it is private property."

"Fire wood is considered marketable wood and because of this fact it comes under state timber theft laws," according to Hancock Area Forester Randall D. Riedrich.

"Today, a cord of wood is worth about $50," the forester added.

Text of the 1972 Mississippi Code, 97-17-59, applicable to the protection of private timber follows:

Law Protecting Against Timber Theft—

Section 1—Any person who shall knowingly, wilfully and feloniously take, steal and carry away from the lands of another any merchantable timber on the property of another, of the value of less than $25, whether such timber be growing, standing, or lying on said lands, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $500, or by an imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than 30 days nor more than 100 days, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Section 2—Any person who shall knowingly, wilfully and feloniously take, steal and carry away from the lands of another any merchantable timber on the property of another, of the value of $25 or more, whether such timber be growing, standing, or lying on said lands, shall be guilty of a felony; and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $500, or by imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term of not less than one year nor more than five years or both, in the discretion of the court.

Trespass, civil liability, by cutting trees, Mississippi Code 1972—95—5—3:

If any person shall cut down, deaden, destroy or take away, if already cut or fallen, any cypress, white oak, black oak, or other oak, pine, poplar, black walnut, cherry, pecan, hickory, chestnut, birch, ash, holly, gum, persimmon, cedar, sassafras or beech tree, not his own, without the consent of the owner, he shall pay to the owner of the tree or trees, as a penalty, $15 for every such tree so cut down, deadened, destroyed or taken away; and for every other tree not herein described so cut down, deadened, destroyed, or taken away, the sum of $5 shall be paid as a penalty. And in addition to the penalty to be paid as herein provided, he shall pay to the owner of the tree or trees the actual value of such tree or trees cut down, deadened, destroyed or taken away; and for such actual damages and for such penalty the owner may recover in the same suit."

Washington report

TOWARD ENERGY INDEPENDENCE

By Congressman Trent Lott
5th District, Mississippi

As debate on how to deal effectively with our country's energy problems unfolds, the House has taken up one of the few energy proposals from the Carter administration that makes any sense.

That proposed creation of an energy mobilization board to cut through some of government's red tape and make sure that crucial energy projects get on line quickly is a concept worth our attention.

The function of the five-member board would be to designate crucial projects, such as refineries and pipelines, as "priority energy projects," then work to see that they are completed on schedule. The projects then would be contributing toward America's energy independence.

When the President first made his proposal, I was delighted. I saw it as a chance to implement a system that would not become entangled in the same red tape it attempts to avoid. But over the past couple of months, President Carter seems to be wavering a bit from his original plan.

When the bill was brought before the House Rules Committee, on which I serve, it already had passed the tests of two other House committees, Interior and Commerce, although some differences remained to be settled.

The debate in the Rules committee centered on two points, the number of projects to be designated as priority energy projects and whether the board should have the authority to waive substantive laws to get its mission accomplished.

I recognize that there are some legitimate concerns over the authority of the proposed board to override substantive state and local laws, and some procedure must be worked out to deal with that problem.

But, I see no justification for Congress to prohibit the board from waiving federal laws when necessary because, when it comes to energy, our country's entire way of life and our future is on the line.

One of the reasons for establishing the board in the first place is that we have far too many needless federal laws, regulations and restrictions on the books now, and Congress has shown no inclination to repeal them.

A procedure to shorten the time it takes to get a project built is necessary, and the agency which handles it must have the authority to take all factors into consideration, then make decisions.

The energy mobilization board bill will be brought to the House floor soon, and I will be working to see that it has some teeth in it. But, if it is watered down so much that it would defeat its purpose, I will have a hard time voting for it.

villian labor force was unemployed. August, 1979 showed a decreased unemployment rate of 5.9 per cent, a drop of 1.6 per cent.

The Mississippi State Employment Service says, "the current rate of unemployment estimated at 5.9 per cent of the labor force changes the classification of the metro area from an area of substantial to moderate unemployment. This rate compares very favorably with the very high 7.5 rate of August a year ago. Statistics are not yet available to determine the effects of Hurricane Frederick on the labor force for September."

The total value of permits reported by Bay St. Louis amounted to $1,011,436 in that month.

Harrison County topped Bay St. Louis with August permits valued at $3,046,255.

McQueen also said that a permit for one home in Bay St. Louis, in the August figures, amounted to approximately $163,000.

Viet Vets urged to use GI Bill

Half of all veterans who served during the Vietnam War are still eligible for GI Bill education benefits, according to Veterans Administration statistics.

Although 65 percent of the nine million plus veterans of the Vietnam War have used the GI Bill, VA estimates that more than five million are still entitled to some or all of the training time they earned, said Mike Ladner, Hancock County Veterans Service officer.

The estimate is based on the number of veterans who have not reached the tenth anniversary of their separation from military service when, by law, their GI Bill education rights expire.

"VA is eager that veterans know that training must be completed within this ten-year period," Ladner said. "It is a waste to allow this valuable entitlement to slip by."

VA predicts that 887,000 veterans will lose their eligibility during the twelve-month period starting October 1, fiscal year 1980 for the federal government.

This is eligibility that could mean up to:

- 45 months of financial assistance for school or college, farm or on-the-job training or a combination of school and job training;
- $725 in earnings a semester through VA's work-study program if the veteran is in college full-time; - $825 tutorial assistance if the veteran is deficient in a required subject; and, - $2,500 in low-interest direct loans an academic year, based upon financial need.

Since 1944, when the first GI Bill became law, Americans have invested some $49 billion to train 7.8 million World War II veterans, 2.4 million Korean Conflict veterans and 7.5 million Vietnam Era and Post-Korean Conflict veterans and active duty personnel.

VA predicted the total number of trainees the active bill will surpass the WWII number early in fiscal year 1981.

Fifty percent of WWII and 42 percent of Korean Conflict veterans used their GI Bills.

VA estimates that by the end of 1984 more than half the veterans eligible today will have passed the ten-year benefit limit.

"While many have reached their educational goal and more than one million will train this year," Ladner said, "we urge veterans with entitlement to start a program early enough to complete it before time runs out."

Veterans in the midst of training lose their right to VA payments ten years after their separation dates and all activities under the current bill cease December 31, 1989.

Red Cross to launch $15 million campaign

The American National Red Cross is planning a special $15 million disaster fund campaign, according to Hancock County Chapter officials.

The Hancock Chapter's share of the fair share quota campaign is to be $384, according to George M. Elsey, of Washington, D.C. National President.

"An unprecedented number of major disaster operations during the current fiscal year has totally exhausted the Red Cross' disaster budget," Elsey said in a telegram to the local chapter. Elsey said the national organization expended some $23.2 million from its disaster fund in the first quarter of the fiscal year, leaving a disaster balance of some $2 million.

"A five-year disaster average indicates we will need some $16.4 million from Oct. 1, 1979 to June 30, 1980," Elsey explained.

"The American National Red Cross Board of Governors has voted to launch this special quota disaster fund campaign effective Dec. 1 to run through Jan. 15 to cover these anticipated costs through next June 30," Elsey reported.

Health and Safety Tip

Markers Listed To Identify Alcoholics

How can you tell that a regular, heavy drinker has crossed over the line and become an alcoholic, who no longer can control his or her drinking?

The American Medical Association in its Manual on Alcoholism points to some markers to help identify the alcoholic.

1. Increasing consumption of alcohol, with frequent, perhaps unintended, episodes of intoxication.
2. Drinking to handle problems or relieve symptoms.
3. Obvious preoccupation with alcohol and the frequent need to have a drink.
4. Surreptitious drinking or gulping of drinks.
5. Tendency toward making alibis and weak excuses for drinking.

6. Refusal to concede what is obviously excessive consumption and expressing annoyance when the subject is mentioned.

7. Frequent absenteeism from the job, especially following weekends and holidays.

8. Repeated changes in jobs, particularly if to successively lower levels, or employment in a capacity beneath ability, education and background.

9. Shabby appearance, poor hygiene, and behavior and social adjustment inconsistent with previous levels or expectations.

10. Persistent vague physical complaints without apparent cause, particularly insomnia; stomach-upsets, headaches, loss of appetite.

11. Multiple contacts with the health care system with disorders that are alcohol caused or related.

12. Persistent marital and family problems, perhaps with multiple marriages.

13. History of arrests for drunkenness or drunken driving.

United Way agency director promotes 'open house' policy

By Grace Gibson

For United Way

A life-long resident of Bay St. Louis, Angeline Bourgeois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Bourgeois Sr., graduated from St. Joseph's Academy and married Jake Morreale. Angeline and Jake have two sons, young men now.

Gregory, the younger son, lives in New Orleans with his wife, Suzanne who is a nurse. Gregory is sales manager for Peaches Tape and Record Shops.

Richard, the father of Jake and Angeline's six grandchildren, resides in Virginia where he is a senior member of the technical staff at Computer Science Corporation of Washington, D.C.

Angeline, currently the manager of Goodwill Industries in the Bay St. Louis area, loves working with people and for people. In fact, she says her main hobby is "helping."

She worked as a teacher's aide at Our Lady's Academy, but she now devotes all her time to Goodwill, believing it to be one of the most important interests of today.

Angeline wishes everyone could see how much Goodwill has to offer—helping the handicapped learn to run machines, to repair appliances, to upholster furniture.

But she also believes that Goodwill helps not only the handicapped but all the people in the community. She wishes everyone would come in and look at all the items for sale with an open mind—without thinking of "Goodwill donations."

After all, as Angeline says, we think nothing of buying items at garage or rummage sales. And the items offered at Goodwill have been cleaned and repaired before being offered for sale.

Although she is devoted to Goodwill, Mrs. Morreale does keep her time filled with other activities too. A member of the DAVA, and the VFW Auxiliary, she is also a 25-year member of the Canasta Club of Bay St. Louis, and believes in enjoying life even when not helping others.

Angeline has worked with civic affairs quite a bit, working during elections for the past twenty years—ever since election workers earned $3 a day for giving their time from 7 a.m. of election to 7 a.m. the following morning counting and checking ballots.

Her husband Jake was in the Marines and was wounded during the second World War, losing a leg, among other injuries. But he has really worked, keeping up their yard after retiring from his last occupation. The Morreales used to enjoy camping out, but are no longer able to do so.

Angeline became interested in helping others through being around others so much herself and receiving help when she needed it. She commented that five to ten years ago, she kept busy having a good time and doing for herself, but now enjoys life more even though she stays busier than ever. She believes life is better now, more rewarding, and she finds herself helping others more.

And her main mode of helping others is through Goodwill. She has worked in the Goodwill store in Gulfport, but thoroughly enjoys managing the Bay St. Louis store.

She spoke of the excellent staff at this store, Frances Compretta and Rosalie Benigno, who devote so much of their time to helping those who come to Goodwill in the Bay.

Angeline believes that the people make Goodwill—not only those who work there, but also those who buy there and who donate to Goodwill.

She does very little sewing and decorating right now, although she has begun. Her macramé is beautiful, as is her crochet work, some of which is in evidence at her home on Carroll Avenue. The Morreales have resided in their new home just since June, moving from DeMontiluzin Avenue after spending 31 years in their residence there.

Angeline also works with the Senior Citizens through Goodwill and is thinking of helping to establish a chapter of Overeaters Anonymous with these friends.

J. B. WRIGHT
Candidate For STATE SENATOR
TO THE VOTERS OF PEARL RIVER AND
HANCOCK COUNTIES

Julian B. Wright

I am J.B. Wright, a candidate for the office of state senator. A man who can and will stand up for the people of this district. A man who will introduce legislation and fight to get it through the legislature that will benefit the people as a whole in Mississippi. There are changes in the system that must be made if we are ever going to come out of the ruts we have been in for the last one hundred years. Change is a necessary tool in the world that we live in today. Our state leaders have never had the foresight or the desire to make any changes in state government. Their attitude is simply stated in one phrase, don't dare rock the boat. If ever the boat needed rocking, rocking in order to bring the government back to the people, the time is now. There are changes needed in our constitution, our rules, and our laws if we are ever to have government for and by the people.

We need to change or amend our constitution to allow a governor to succeed himself in office. This change should be made regardless of who is elected governor this year. This would give the governor the strength and prestige to carry out his duties as governor and give him the necessary time to carry out any programs that would be beneficial to the people. This has not been done because of jealousy on the part of law makers. This change has been made in other states and worked well to the advantage of the people. Look at the financial growth of Louisiana today and you can see the difference. Their law was changed only twelve years ago and it is working to their benefit.

We need changes in the rules by which our state senate operates. We have fifty two senate districts in the state, each senator representing a near equal number of people. That is as it should be but that is not the case. The unwritten law in the state senate is, first seek the blessings of the few Mr. Bigs and then proceed if its alright with them. This powerhouse structure of state government should and must be corrected. It will take people elected to office who have the guts to stand up for the people and forget about the power they desire for themselves. As it stands now the Lt. Governor appoints each committee member and each committee chairman. This is done under extreme pressure from special interest groups which results in special interest running state government rather than the people we elect to do the job. This iniquity can and should be changed by letting the Lt. Governor appoint the committee members, the chairman being elected by the committee members, and that chairmanship rotated each year. This would eliminate power structures, reduce special interest lobbying power, and return the power of government to the people where it belongs. This has never been done. It would take time as well as electing dedicated people to office and standing behind them in their attempt to serve you. Mississippi can be a leader if the people so desire, or we can struggle along in the same old ruts and stay on the bottom of every statistic that there is.

Mississippi needs oil exploration which we do not have now because of the law governing mineral rights. Most of the mineral rights were sold to a few people with the money to spend when selling them were the only way of putting food on the table of poor landowners. These mineral rights were sold for a very low price and the holders have had ample time to make a good profit on their investment. It's time mineral rights were returned to the present landowners. When this is done the oil companies will come in and there again the people will enjoy the benefits. Other states have this type law and it has benefited everyone. Why not Mississippi?

This is only a few changes that need to be made to put our state on the tracks to success. I am fully aware of the opposition, to changes of this nature by a few people who will cry to high heaven and offer you all kinds of excuses why these things should not be done. I know that change is a necessary part of our lives if we are to live in a changing world such as we have today. Things that do not work for us can be made to work only by change.

The choice is entirely in your hands as to what you want and the direction you want to go. If you want things as is, then vote for my opponent. He seems to be satisfied with things as they are. If you want a man to serve you the people, a man that has the time and desire to listen to you, a man that knows the pressure that people have to face in their everyday lives, and a man who is willing and able to work to help eliminate some of the pressures, then vote for me. It can make a difference.

Hancock Library System tells newly added books

Submitted By

Library Staff

Thinking about having a face lift? Wondering what Pope John Paul II has experienced in life? If you have thought about these questions or any other the answer's are in your public library. The following books are now available at any of the libraries of the Hancock County Library System:

"LIKE NO OTHER STORE IN THE WORLD" by Mark Stevens. More than just a department store, "Bloomingdale's" or "Bloomingdale's" as it is known to its devoted patrons - is an experience, an event, a social and financial phenomenon.

THE NO-ONSENSE GUIDE TO COSMETIC SURGERY by Sheldon Rothfleisch, M.D. A practical guide to understanding the most common cosmetic surgery procedures for both men and women - including complete information on hair transplants, breast augmentation, and face lifts, with detailed explanation of each procedure, cost, length of hospital stay, pain factor, possible complications, recovery time, post-surgical care, and before and after photographs. This book tells you exactly how and if cosmetic surgery can benefit you.

POPE JOHN PAUL II, THE LIFE OF KAROL WOJTYLA by Mieczyslaw Malinski. Here is a portrait of a man of extraordinary courage and faith, a man whose personal and national experience, however testing, nurtured his humanity, a man whose decency and perseverance adapted to and yet always altered history as it unfolded around him.

A LINCOLN, THE CRUCIBLE OF CONGRESS by Paul Findley. Congressman Findley shows in this book that Lincoln's term in Congress has been buried in undeserved oblivion. In this significant new contribution to Lincoln literature, former newspaperman Findley recreates those two forgotten years that indelibly shaped the course of our history. And he does it with the informed intuition that only a Congressman can bring to another Congressman's career.

DOING THE MEDIA by Kit Laybourne and Pauline Cianciolo. This is a portfolio of activities, ideas, and resources for every classroom teacher - a catalog of imaginative activities with television, sound, and photography.

BLOOD FEUD by Edward Hannibal and Robert Boris. The bitter conflict between Jimmy Hoffa, the poor boy who rose through the ranks, and Bobby Kennedy, the privileged kid of wealth and position - both of whom ostensibly championed the cause of the common man - revived the public's attention for nearly a decade before it ended in triumph and tragedy. The drama of their intense personal antagonisms and the startling revelations that may link organized crime with a presidential assassination make for a fascinating novel.

MUGGER'S DAY by George Bagdy. Another Crime Club Selection. This one starring George Bagdy, mystery writer, and his friend Inspector Schmidt, Chief of Homicide, NYPD, as a mugger is murdered and things really start getting strange.

SWEET ANARCHY by Nathaniel Benchley. In a burst of frustration and xenophobia, an island off the United States coast decides to secede. Caught in the havoc of the modern rebellion is Sam Jensen, a visiting writer whose hope for solitude becomes as impossible as would a waterfront stroll have been during the Boston Tea Party.

THE GREEN RIPPER by John D. McDonald. A new Travis McGee adventure, this one penetrating the murky world of religious cults and terrorism as McGee discovers that impersonal evil is loose in the land.

MOM KILLS KIDS AND SELF by Alan Saperstein. We've seen the headline a thousand times, but this time the story is about us. About a woman who is driven to murder and suicide. About a man who comes home from work to find his family dead. Flung by tragedy into an examination of his married life, he faces a newsreel of truths about his own yearnings, his failings, his deep sympathy for his wife, for women.

City-County Library featuring art

City-County Public Library in Bay St. Louis will feature the artwork of Nina Burke during November.

A new resident of Hancock County, Mrs. Burke is a native Texan. She has been residing in southern Louisiana for the last few years and recently moved to Diamondhead with her husband and two sons.

Mrs. Burke began showing her work through the St. Charles Art Guild. Her techniques is varied and her subject matter includes still life, bayou scenes and seascapes.

She is a self-taught artist who has been inspired to use techniques from other paintings and by watching artists at work in New Orleans.

One of her paintings was voted "Most Popular of Show" at the 1978 St. Charles Art Guild Show.

Others have won ribbons in several shows and have been displayed at the Beverly Dinner Theatre.

The library exhibit will be her first one-man show.

HNC senior

wins scholarship competition

Jeff Pressman a senior at Hancock North Central, won the Century III Leaders Scholarship competition at that school, according to Thad W. Haskins, principal.

The 16-year-old senior is now eligible to compete with other high school seniors throughout Mississippi for two $1,500 scholarships, two $500 scholarships, and also for a $10,000 national scholarship that will be awarded in a conference of the state winners in historic Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia.

Pressman triumphed in the local phase of the Century III Leaders program, a scholarship competition which emphasizes the future concerns of America.

Students were judged on the basis of their leadership abilities, community involvement and score on a current events examination.

To compete at the state level, Pressman must now write a brief projection outlining what he thinks is one of America's future challenges and how it should be met.

Runner-up in the competition at Hancock North Central School was Christopher Halterlein, 17 year-old senior and the son of Mrs. Jean Halterlein.

Pressman, the son of Mr. & Mrs. Al Pressman, now competes with other high school winners from around the state for four scholarships and an opportunity for the $10,000 top national scholarship.

Bishop Joseph Francis of Newark, N.J. told an audience of some 350 St. Augustine's Seminary in Bay St. Louis Sunday the promise of the 50-year-old seminary is in the hands of parents who must take primary responsibility for providing priests of the future.

Francis was among five bishops who concelebrated Mass at the seminary Sunday in honor of Bishop Raymond Caesar of New Guinea, St. Augustine alumnus and native of Eunice, La.

In a reference to the seminary's five alumni bishops, four of whom were present for Sunday's event, Francis noted, "Today we see here the results of seeds planted many years ago with the founding of St. Augustine's."

"But the seeds must continue to be planted...if there is to be a harvest in the future," the New Jersey prelate continued.

"How much longer will those seeds planted more than a half-century ago continue to produce?" the bishop asked. "Will there be other Bishop Caesars?" he queried.

"Sometimes it seems the dream of the founders of St. Augustine is being taken for granted by those who have benefited most from this institution," Bishop Francis warned.

"Are we willing to make the effort to keep the vision unclouded," he challenged his listeners.

Bishop Francis said seeds of the future priesthood are planted within the Catholic families of the community.

"And vocations are harvested when mothers, fathers, aunts, uncles, brothers and sisters hand that seed over to a seminary, specifically this seminary," the bishop stated in his homily address.

Bishop Joseph Howze of Biloxi presided at the event. He noted Bishop Caesar should be an inspiration to the seminary students of today.

Caesar is the seminary's latest alumni bishop, being the last man to be elevated to the episcopate by Pope Paul VI. Howze noted he had cancelled a planned open house in new Biloxi Chancery offices Sunday to attend the Bay St. Louis event. The bishop said the open house in Biloxi will be staged Sunday.

Bishop Caesar paid tribute to the faculty of St. Augustine's, noting, "Wherever in the world we go, we are second to none, and we are grateful for that."

He was lavish in his praise of some seven Brothers who were at the seminary when he first entered 32 years ago, some of whom were in Sunday's audience.

"Brother Joseph kept a little farm and also served as the seminary's shoemaker," the honoree explained.

"Brother Joseph kept our soles in good shape," he quipped.

Other St. Augustine alumni participating included Bishop Harold Perry of the New Orleans Archdiocese and Bishop Carlos Lewis of Panama.

Also concelebrating the Mass with the bishops were Very Rev. Terry Steib, SVD, provincial superior of the Southern Province of Society of The Divine Word, and Very Rev. A. Francis Theriault, SVD, rector of St. Augustine's Seminary.

Choirs of St. Rose de Lima Parish of Bay St. Louis under direction of Mrs. Marilyn Smith with pianist Miss Mary Ellen Hazeur and Immaculate Heart of Mary Parish in Lafayette, La., under direction of Rev. James Pawlicki provided music for the occasion.

SENIOR CITIZEN EVENTS

BY PETE CARR

Sometimes I wonder how worthwhile ideas ever survive to even get off the ground, nevertheless even soaring to great heights, not because of anything but in spite of everything.

I was asked to write this column. I said I would try. Being a volunteer as well as a most grateful recipient of the friendships made and a painting hobby through the Center's Art Program, I had hoped that perhaps I could reach others in the community who were at a time in their lives when they were searching for something to occupy their minds, their hands and their experience in a more useful or a more meaningful endeavor.

Once the busy years of raising and supporting a family are over and retirement is a reality, there is a period of assessment - what's next? I heard a young man in the accounting department of a large company talking to his peers years ago, and at the time it impressed me. I heard him say: "There are two realities in life - birth and death. Anything you do in between is nothing else than a 'cop-out' from death; however, you do have the choice of the form of your 'cop-out'."

He then proceeded to outline his form of 'cop-out' to work ten years and his wife also, save their money, retire to his small home town and raise his children in a small town atmosphere where they could enjoy hunting, fishing and the warmth of closer relationships a small town offers that a large city does not provide. I like to think his 'cop-out' is working for him.

I have found my 'cop-out' through the Center's Art Program and in trying to reach others through this column I decided that the best thing to do was to learn how and what the people in the other recreational programs are doing. Is it as meaningful to them as it is to me?

I felt I wanted to write the

column not through my eyes alone but through the eyes of other participants and workers.

I take time to get people talking about themselves and their feelings some of us are more shy than others, but I didn't feel I could write this column without receiving input from others.

The more I listen to their stories no matter their race, color or creed there is a common denominator - they are all human beings dealing with the form of their 'cop-out'.

Money is not an equalizer in life and if we are fortunate to have it, sharing whatever we can with others less fortunate is wonderful, if it comes from the heart.

Meet Anna May Ladner. She said she tried for three years to get into the center but had to wait until she was 60. She would get lonely and go to visit her sister in New Orleans.

Now she feels guilty because she doesn't see as much of her sister because she is happily busy learning new things and having new experiences. Ms. Ladner is a member of the Singing Seniors and said it made her feel good when they take trips to nursing homes, etc. and see people less fortunate than her join in the singing with them, which springs from the heart.

"I never knew how to correct and always wanted to learn, but I learned here in the Needlepoint and Embroidery class." "I enjoy doing it here," she continued, "and I also do it at home."

She mentioned she received several blue ribbons for her projects which she entered in the Hancock County Fair and Livestock Show.

She also does ceramics. In other words, she is living a busy life and sharing peer companionship as well as learning new things which only proves that it isn't too late to learn to do something new.

I have taken the time to get to know people in the program and have received some suggestions from others that I was overlooking the workers not mentioning their names, etc.

In this connection limited space is a problem. I know of the generosity of the merchants of our community, the faithful cake bakers for the parties, the entertainers who give of their time and the many other workers in the program.

Their input is important too and a column will be devoted to them as well as others, but in the meantime one has to take "One Day at a Time."

For your information, the Senior Citizens program is funded by the County Board of Supervisors, the City of Waveland, the City of Bay St. Louis, Title XX, United Way and Department of Public Welfare.

The Halloween party was enjoyed by all. While there was a lack of costumes, Mrs. Anita Cohen won first place representing Morgus for which she received a $5 prize furnished by RSVF.

Entertainment was supplied and Rev. Charles Clark's voice echoed in the room together with his guitar.

James Gandy and his guitar and Cyril Reese with his saxophone together with the voice of Paul Lewis added to the musical sound which all enjoyed.

Decorations made by the Elderly Day Care group supplied a festive occasion.

DATES TO REMEMBER
Monday, Nov. 5, 10 a.m.-2 p.m. - Arts and Crafts Bazaar. The Mayor invited the Center to use the City Hall grounds under the beautiful oak trees for this event. Should we have bad weather, we will have the bazaar at the Center.

Tuesday, Nov. 20 at 10:30 a.m. - Rev. Clark will officiate at Thanksgiving Services.

Wednesday, Nov. 21 Noon - Senior Citizens only. Thanksgiving Dinner will be served to all who make reservations. Be sure to call or leave your name with Pam.

Audubon exhibit is at Beauvoir

"Audubon in Mississippi", an exhibit circulated by the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, opens today at Beauvoir, the Jefferson Davis Shrine on West Beach, Biloxi.

The ten-panel exhibit was researched and designed by Donna B. Dye and Susan Eugene, staff members of the State Historical Museum in the Old Capitol Restoration, a division of the Archives Department in Jackson.

John James Audubon was a well-known American naturalist. He came to Mississippi in 1820, at the age of 35, in pursuit of his dream of portraying the birds of America. He settled in the Natchez area after securing his passage to the state by providing wild game for his ship's crew.

In order to support himself, his family and his dream, Audubon established himself as a teacher of a variety of subjects, including drawing, dancing, fencing and French.

At one time Audubon had dancing students numbering sixty in the town of Woodville alone. His wife assisted in improving the family financial condition by teaching needlework.

Audubon's style and technique, his philosophy and his work, are all a part of "Audubon in Mississippi," an exhibit which may be seen at Beauvoir.

The exhibit will be on display daily, each day of the week, from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m., to the general public at no charge.

Superintendent Newton W. Carr, Jr. state that the exhibit will be an "extra" to those visitors who would regularly tour the Shrine and its museums, but would be available in the theatre area at no charge to those Coastal residents who do not desire to tour the mansion and its premises.

Jefferson Davis' boyhood home, Rosemont, is at Woodville and it is believed that Audubon and the Davis family were associated in that South-west Mississippi Antebellum community. The exhibit will be at Beauvoir from November 1-21.

Field house dedicated

BY WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Dedication ceremonies for a new Bay High School field house at the school's football stadium, were held during halftime of the Bay-High-St. Stanislaus football game, Friday night.

The ceremony culminated over six years of activities by the Bay High Tiger Booster Club for construction of a field house.

John Ginn, 1974-75 past president, whose term marked the beginning of field house fund raising activities, received a $500 check from Bill Watts, treasurer of the Bay-Waveland Rotary Club.

The reception of the Rotary check initiated halftime dedication ceremonies and is designated to fund the installation of the ceiling in the field house.

Past booster club presidents Walter Turcott, 1975-76; Dwayne Erlich, 1977-78; and Bill Breland, 1978-79 each presented a set of presidential keys to Bay St. Louis School Superintendent J. D. McCulloch during ceremonies signifying their terms in office.

During Breland's term as booster club president field house construction began.

Bob Delcuze, 1979-80 president of the Bay High Tiger Booster Club was master of ceremonies.

Dick Thomas, 1976-77 booster club president was unable to attend.

Design and painting of the slogan "You Are In Tiger Country" on the front of the Bay High field house was by Al Summy, a local sign painter.

USM sets

grant seminars

The University of Southern Mississippi Department of Business and Industrial Programs will present a Grant Writing Seminar Nov. 6, 7 and 8 and a Grant Management Seminar Nov. 9.

The programs are being held in response to requests from municipalities, various agencies and public institutions for information on the process of obtaining and managing grants.

A systems design approach will be offered covering all aspects of grant writing including needs assessment, project design, objectives, evaluations, form completions, evaluation and management.

For additional information on the two seminars contact the Department of Business and Industrial Programs, Donna Garvey, coordinator, Southern Station Box 5065, Hattiesburg, MS 39401 or telephone (601) 266-4262.

DONATION FOR CEILING—John Ginn, past president of the Bay Senior High Tiger Booster Club, front left, receives a $500 check from Bill Watts, treasurer of the Bay-Waveland Rotary Club, for partial financing of a ceiling in a new field house at Tiger Stadium. Also participating in Bay High-St.

Come watch Duke shoot true blue.

Here's your chance to see America's top Labrador Retriever up close.

Trained and handled by Monte Lynch, a teenager from Kansas, Duke is not the average three-year-old.

The dog that calls his own ducks, shoots 'em too.

Duke's been seen by millions on national TV and at shows across the country. At just eleven months, he was already tabbed the best-trained dog in America. Come see Duke call ducks, shoot his personal Remington automatic shotgun (loaded with blanks, of course!), and retrieve, retrieve, retrieve. Plus 25 other tricks, from jumping rope to crawling to answering questions.

Duke will be in town on behalf of another true blue performer.

Peters ammunition. Together, they make quite a team. See for yourself at the times and places shown below.

Duke's choice, Peters True Blue.

You'll see Duke pick from a whole field the one shotgun shell that's meant old-fashioned quality since 1887. The whole family of Peters sporting ammunition will be on sale right after the show.

A MESSAGE FROM BILLY D. SILLS THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR HANCOCK COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION

Your County Superintendent of Education should not work for anyone person or a group of people. He should work for you, the taxpayers of Hancock County.

I will work to restore the principles of sound conservative education. It makes no sense when your tax dollars are wasted unnecessarily and not enough is left to provide education for our children. As your Superintendent of Education, I will put first things first when it comes to spending your tax dollars.

It will take a strong Superintendent of Education to make your voice heard. That is my pledge to the people of Hancock County, to speak for your needs and be accountable only to you during the next four years.

I need your vote and support. Together we can assure that our voice will be heard effectively in our educational system.

Nurses slate Biloxi confab

Multiple issues confronting the nursing profession will be on the agenda November 8-9 when the Society for Nursing Service Administration of the Mississippi Hospital Association holds its Fifth Annual Conference in Biloxi.

The president of the Society, Mrs. Bebe Richardson, R.N., director of nursing service administration at Woman's Hospital in Jackson, will preside at the sessions, which will be held at the Broadwater Beach Hotel.

Latest developments in the nursing profession in Mississippi will be reviewed in four invitational reports to be brought to the statewide assembly of directors of nursing in hospitals throughout the state.

Bringing the first report will be Mrs. McCaleb, R.N., of Cleveland, president of the Mississippi Board of Nursing, who will discuss the expanding role, in hospitals, of the licensed practical nurse.

Mrs. Bobbie Anderson, R.N., of Vicksburg, chairman of the Mississippi Nursing Association's task force on entry levels in nursing practice, will report on that project.

She is chairman of the associate-degree-nursing program at Hinds Junior College.

The Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Mississippi Hospital Association, John R. Reedy, administrator of Riverside Hospital in Jackson, will review the MHA's activities related to nursing, especially with regard to the MHA's special task force addressing the nursing shortage.

Dr. Peggy Keheley, associate director for nursing education, Board of Trustees of the State Institutions of Higher Learning, will report on trends in nursing education in the state.

Dr. Michael Rabalais, academic dean at Hinds Junior College, will describe how to use a beneficial management skill, turning negative attitudes into positive ones.

He will conduct a two-hour workshop on this topic.

Sister Mary Robyn, of Vicksburg, president-elect of the society will preside over the second-day agenda.

Two speakers will discuss state and federal legislation affecting nurses and hospitals. They are Mrs. Jamie Hughes, R.N., director of Nursing at Riverside Hospital in Jackson, serving as legislative chairman for the Mississippi Nursing Association; and Sam W. Cameron, vice-president of and lobbyist for the Mississippi Hospital Association.

A speaker from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals will review the revised nursing standards of the national accrediting agency for hospitals.

Ole Miss sorority reunion scheduled

More than 1400 alumnae of The University of Mississippi chapter of Delta Delta Delta social sorority have been invited to join the sorority in celebrating its 75th anniversary Nov. 29-30.

Alumnae of the Chi chapter of Tri Delta from Bay St. Louis are among those invited to attend the two-day reunion. The Ole Miss chapter of the sorority was founded Sept. 22, 1904, with nine chapter members. This year the sorority has 178 members, who will serve as hostesses during the three-part anniversary celebration. Activities begin with a tea from 4:45-5:30 p.m. Nov. 29 at Tri Delta House. The open house will honor two alumnae, Mrs. Elise Varner Winter ('47), wife of Democratic gubernatorial candidate William Winter, and Mrs. Donna Bailey Dye ('60), wife of Democratic candidate for the Lt. Governor's office, Brad Dye. For more information about the reunion contact Delta Delta Delta, P.O. Box 8077, University, MS 38677.

Extension Service workshops slated

The Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service will conduct a variety of educational seminars and workshops in November that will be of interest to Mississippians.

Each meeting will feature the latest information on the various topics covered. Following is information about each seminar, and workshop:

Undefeated Jerry Carson of the Bay-Kiln-Waveland Boxing Club stopped Aaron Reeses of the McIntosh Boxing Club, Alabama, Saturday night at the Saraland Civic Center in Saraland, Ala.

The victory came 1:38 into the second round of a scheduled three two-minute round bout.

Head Boxing Coach John Whisenhunt said "from the first bell Jerry launched an early attack, hitting the body and head with lefts and rights."

"He threw left-right combinations which brought his opponent to his knees when the referee stopped the fight. A knock out was inevitable, but referees are there to stop a boxer from getting injured," he added.

Both Carson and Reeses are 15-year-old and weigh 115 pounds.

"Reeses has lots more experience, but is no match for Jerry in punching power and ability for lateral ring movement," the head coach said.

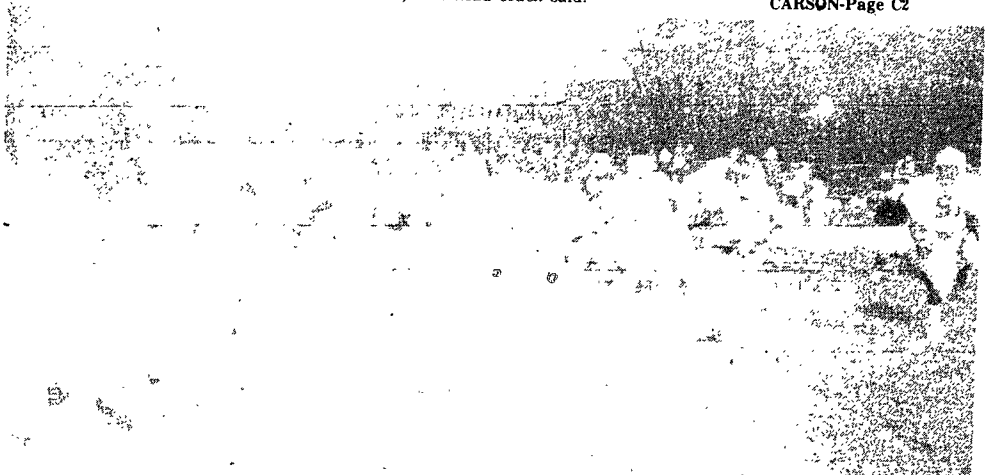

Carson is a native of Mississippi and attends Bay St. Louis Junior High School.

The Waveland resident has won every fight he has attempted with a 4-0-0 record.

In other action, Todd Rooks of Kiln defeated Bobby Doggett of the Saraland Boxing Club in a unanimous decision, going the distance in the bout.

"Doggett had three times as much experience as Todd, but Todd's

Hunting seminar slated Nov. 13

Officials from the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation will be at Gulfview Elementary School in Lakeshore Nov. 13 to discuss laws, rules, and regulations of the upcoming hunting season.

Hancock County State Representative J.P. Compretta said Monday the public is invited to attend the 7 p.m. seminar, which will offer recently changed regulations and laws, along with giving local hunters and sportsmen the opportunity to make suggestions to the wildlife officials.

"There have been some changes in the laws this year, and the best thing to do is have the officials from Jackson and local game wardens conduct this seminar," Compretta said.

"We held a similar seminar at Hancock North Central last year. This is an appropriate time to have this, just before the opening of deer season," he added.

Officials from the Wildlife Department will include Benny Herring, director of the Bureau of Fisheries and Wildlife.

Bay High Head Coach James "Snuffy" Smith said Wednesday he personally feels that his Tigers should defeat the East Central Hornets Friday night at Tiger Stadium.

"I personally feel that if we win any game this year we should win the match against East Central," Smith said.

"We need this win, and the odds are on our side. We are ready attitude-wise, and our athletes are going to give everything they have to win," he added.

Injuries in the backfield on offense have forced some changes, and Smith said he may move signal calling Chuck Benigno into a running back position and put Don Ginn in at the helm.

The Pass Christian Pirates cross the Bay St. Louis automobile bridge Friday night to meet St. Stanislaus in a traditionally tough, physical ballgame, one for which Head Coach Bob Lumpkin said his players are hungry.

The Pirates defeated East Central last week at Pirate Stadium, one of their few wins this season, and now face the awesome SSC running backs and linemen in the two-county rivalry.

"The Stanislaus team this year is physically one of the best teams ever and is well coached," the Pirate leader said.

"They played a tough game against d'Iberville, and I feel if we are going to catch them, we will have to play the best game of our season," he continued.

"We are mentally prepared for this game, and we are hungry for a win. We are not down now, and we have never been down all season," he explained.

"We are going into this game with the idea we can win-but I suppose they are also," Lumpkin said.

The Pirates have been experiencing a year of butterfingers, losing 17 fumbles in two games earlier this year, but Lumpkin feels his squad has finally gotten a grip on the ball.

"Last week against East Central we had only one fumble, which we recovered for a five-yard gain. I was glad to see that," Lumpkin noted.

Gametime is 7:30 p.m. at SSC Stadium in Bay St. Louis.

SHOOTING INSTRUCTIONS-Scott Delcuz and Doug Power learn proper shooting procedures at the prone position from Hunter Safety Instructors Billy Power and Richard Schaefer during a recent Hunter Safety Class instructed by the Bay-Waveland Gun and Rod Club. The 35 students received instruction on Hunter and Conservation; Hunter's Responsibilities; Introduction to Safety; Firearms and Ammunition; Fundamentals of Shooting; and Safe Gun Handling. All students were taken to a firing range and fired live ammunition, which is a requirement for completion of the course.

The Hancock North Central Hawks, winding down perhaps the worst season record-wise in five years, is looking to win the next two games against St. John and Poplarville to lift them to a .500 season.

Head Coach Irvin Favre's Hawks received a tremendous rout last week as the d'Iberville Warriors trounced them 40-0.

Now the Hawks face the St. John Eagles (5-2) at Milner Stadium, in a match which Favre says will be "extremely tough."

"The big thing in this game is morale. Anytime we have a 3-5 season, morale is due to be low," Favre said Tuesday.

"In this situation we hope we can come back in the final two games and pull together a winning season," he continued.

"St. John has probably the best team they have had in the past four years, and the only big difference between them and us is that they have a winning season," he

Bay-Waveland soccer squads make pre-season appearances

The second set of pre-season soccer games produced good results for some of the Bay-Waveland area teams as they recorded three wins, two ties, along with two defeats.

In the under 16 division the Bay team posted an easy 6-0 victory over a rival Gulfport team which played two men short.

"Last week we only fielded seven players, but this week we had 14," remarked Coach Scotty Thompson.

"It made a tremendous difference in the game as we simply overruled the defense," he added.

In another victory the Bay Red Devils won a 3-2 nail-biting match over Long Beach.

The Long Beach team jumped to a 1-0 lead as they capitalized on a penalty kick in the first period, but Shane Foreman tied the game late in the second stanza.

The game remained deadlocked until just seven minutes remained in the game when a shot by a Long Beach wing bounced through the hands of goalie Matt Rosetti.

But the Red Devils again tied the score, this time on a centering pass by Foreman which deflected off a Long Beach fullback into the goal.

With time running out the Red Devils capitalized on an indirect kick just outside the penalty box and in front of the goal. Chris Kolodziej's hard kick rebounded directly into Foreman who dove the ball through the wall of players and into the net.

"Perhaps the best way for an opponent to play our team is to simply not score until the final second of the game," said Coach John Helmers.

"It took us a while to tie the game in the first half because we were standing around, holding our hands and watching the ball roll around on the field. But that goal in the second half scared some life into us as we scored on the very next possession," he continued.

"That goal got our hunger started, and we really began to work to win the game," he added.

The triple-scoring effort by Foreman was his second hat trick in as many games and he now leads the Red Devils with six goals scored.

Coach Helmers said in addition to Foreman, excellent effort was recorded by Kenny Sharp at an inside position and Sam Seymour and Mike Doyle at fullback.

While the Red Devils won a cliff-hanger, the Cobras struck for three goals in the third period to ensure a 4-2 win.

Jay Artigues recorded two goals and Sean Foreman and Scott Demboski one goal each.

Josh Bowles and Travis Foreman played important roles for the Cobras at center halfback and goalie in the game, which was stalemated at 1-1 at half time.

Second half offensive play enabled the Red Devils and Cobras to post victories, but it salvaged a tie for the Mulletts who were down by two goals at the half.

Andrew Wright and Trey Kidd scored in the second half to enable the Mulletts to record their second tie of the pre-season play, but David LeGros was the star of the game as he made at least four diving stops to smother attempted scores by the other team.

Heidi Hitt at a wing position and Brian Martin at a halfback spot turned in good games.

The Golden Eagles and Raiders could not match the second half offensive fireworks as they recorded a tie and a loss, respectively.

The Eagles scored on penalty kicks by Matt Johns and Hank Daman to jump out front to a fast 2-0 lead, while Dave Pitale and Laura Daman kept shutout hopes alive for the first half.

But the second half was all Cheetahs as they came from behind to knot the score at 2-2, and were threatening to score again when time ran out.

"The second half was all the other team's," said Coach Hank Daman, "as they broke through in the final minutes of play to tie the game."

The coach also cited Doug Gleber and Eric Marks for fine performances.

The Raiders, down by a goal 2-1 at the half, were unable to launch an effective offensive attack in the second half as they dropped a 4-1 loss to the Thunderbolts.

SIDELINE SYNOPSIS

Football season is winding down for local high school teams, and the race is on for some teams to obtain bowl slots and others to hopefully move into winning seasons.

The big game this week is Pass Christian visiting St. Stanislaus at Rock-A-Chaw stadium tomorrow, a game which should prove to be a physical, well-matched contest.

Stanislaus won last week against Bay High in a 16-0 shutout to become County Champions, and this week will attempt to expand their reign into Harrison County.

The Pirates finally got a handle on the ball last week and defeated East Central 34-0, a game which allowed the Pirates to regain their morale.

Coach Bob Lumpkin of the Pirates said his team is hungry for a win this week, and the Pass crew has the speed and passing to do just that.

However, with the impressive season the Rocks have displayed this year, I believe the running of Scott Senner and Keith Pfister will prevail in a close contest against the two teams.

Bay High is playing a make up match against East Central tomorrow, and the Tigers are overdue to win a game.

First-year Head Coach James 'Snuffy' Smith's crew will probably win this game, as I am predicting.

The Tigers have had a rough road to follow this year, a year of rebuilding a new team, and I believe next year Snuffy will produce enough interest in the game and enough believers to come from around the cellar and record a winning season.

Hancock North Central faces a tough St. John squad in Milner Stadium Friday, and Head Coach Irvin Favre is hoping his eleven put on a more promising show than they did against d'Iberville last week.

Rebounding from the 40-0 deficit against the Warriors, the Hawks face the St. John squad which is perhaps the finest they have had in years.

Hancock may put on a fine showing, but I anticipate another unfortunate loss for the Hawks in this match.

All games begin at 7:30 p.m.

"Working to obtain honest and efficient Government"

Paid Pol. Adv. by J.P. Comprette

Who can bring Mississippi effective leadership for the 1980's?

WINTER

The people of Mississippi have known where William Winter stands on the issues from the very beginning of his campaign for governor. He has placed before the voters his Action Plans to get Mississippi moving again, and he has addressed the tough issues in a high-level and straightforward manner.

Some of William Winter's plans are simple but crucial pledges to the people about the kind of governor he will be — such as his six-point plan to restore honor and integrity to state government. Some of his plans are bold new programs — for example, his six-point job development plan. Some of the Action Plans are designed to make existing governmental programs work more effectively, while others would eliminate unnecessary and wasteful government programs altogether.

The problems of the elderly...the need for a new look at education for our young people...the strengthening of our rural areas through increased job opportunities and a coordinated transportation plan...these are some of his plans for the 1980's that William Winter has put before the people.

It will take know-how and commitment to make these plans work and to get Mississippi moving again. William Winter has the determination to make them work...and he can provide the effective leadership needed to get the job done.

Tigers.....

Alex Herrington is in an itchy situation with a case of poison ivy, and Bruce Cain suffered a thigh injury last week against St. Stanislaus. Despite the injuries, Smith said his squad has had good workouts during practice and added the Tigers are ready for the Hornets.

"We just cannot give them the easy score. We are going to make them work for all they get," Smith said.

"This will be a true test of our athlete's character this part of the season. They are determined and will play hard football," he added.

"We are not satisfied with a 2-5 record and will not be satisfied with a 2-8 season record. The improvements are there and we will play hard football. I am sure we will win," the head coach said.

Kickoff at Tiger Stadium is at 7:30 p.m.

WINTER FUN

Fishing fun doesn't have to end with the onset of winter. There are many things you can do while awaiting the return of warm weather that will add enjoyment to your fishing next Spring.

Trip planning is an excellent winter activity. Write to tourism and fishing agencies in areas where you would like to fish. Learn the best time to make a trip for the particular kind of fishing you want to do.

One special winter activity the fishing experts at Mercury outdoors enjoy is building a new fishing rod.

Kits are available from sporting goods dealers, through mail order outlets and from fishing specialty shops.

Custom building your own fishing rod is easy, and will help occupy the slow days of winter. When you finish, you'll have a valuable piece of fishing equipment at considerably less cost than if purchased ready-made.

Many anglers use their time during winter to tie flies, make lures and overhaul their fishing tackle.

Again, fly tying kits, lure kits and books on how to do these things are commonplace items at any good fishing tackle outlet.

Other ideas for winter-bound fishermen include fixing up your boat to be more functional next Spring, attending a local course in boat handling and safety, or taking Red Cross first-aid training.

Also, visit your local marine dealer to see what's new and to swap lies about the big fish you didn't catch last season.

Christmas Seal People Urge Parents To Help Children Be Nonsmokers

Whatever else they wish for their children, parents want them to be as healthy as possible. For a lifetime.

"One of the best ways to help that happen," says G. Gordon Beck, president of the American Lung Association, "is to encourage children to take more responsibility for their own health." Even young children, he says, can learn to make decisions which will affect how long and how well they survive.

"A crucial decision," says the Christmas Seal leader, "is whether or not to smoke."

To reach youngsters in the earliest grades, the lung association has developed a special health curriculum project to teach kids to protect their lungs against cigarette smoke, Beck says.

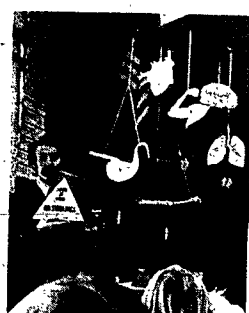

"We're asking parents to reinforce the message, too," says the Christmas Seal leader. "What children see and hear from those they love is critically important."

Parents underestimate their influence, he says. Studies show that most youngsters who smoke come from families where one or both parents smoke.

Many parents who smoke are embarrassed to discuss smoking with their kids, says Beck. As a result, they stay silent or just tell their kids not to smoke. That conveys, "It's okay for me, but not for you," it can cause resentment, he says.

Parents can shift the message by discussing how they got hooked, that they regret it, but find it tough to quit. This at least makes it clear that smoking is "not okay," not even for the parent.

"Instead of being annoyed

Making a mobile showing parts of the body, this teacher is emphasizing the importance of lungs in a special curriculum project developed by the American Lung Association.

By a child's pleas to stop smoking, the parent would do better to acknowledge the distress and alarm being expressed. Ignoring it or getting angry sends a devastating message about disinterest in the child's feelings as well as lack of concern about the parent's own health," he says.

"I know how much you love me and want me to stop smoking," are welcome words. Saying it's hard for you to stop right now at least addresses the issue. Making an effort to quit is the most heartwarming response."

In this year of the Child, the whole world is focusing on children, their feelings, their health, their lives. "They deserve the best possible."

"That includes a future free from cigarette smoking and lung disease," says the Christmas Seal association president. "It's a matter of life and breath."

CHICKEN AND EGGS

September, 1979
Mississippi's 6,819,000 layers produced 132 million eggs in September 1979, according to the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This is 2 million (2 percent) above the 130 million eggs produced in September 1978.

Broiler-type chicks hatched in Mississippi during September totaled 20,429,000 (1 percent) below the September 1978 hatch. The hatch of egg-type chicks was 1,046,000 (8 percent) above the 966,000 egg-type chicks hatched in September 1978.

There were 26,336,000 young chickens slaughtered under Federal Inspection during August 1979 in Mississippi.

FISHIN' TIPS

from...Tom Mann

You read a lot about the need to teach youngsters fishing to teach them a sport that will last throughout a lifetime. Great, do it. But, I recommend that you also take an older fisherman.

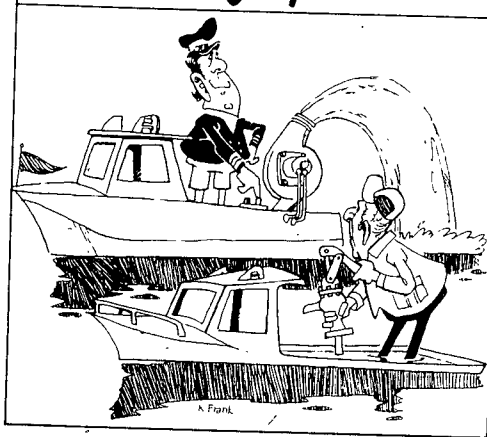

In neighborhoods, retiree areas, old folks homes, hospitals, maybe near where you live, there are senior citizens who would love to know how to fish. Seek them out and teach them simple ways to catch fish. It can be one of the most rewarding experiences imaginable.

Some of these fine folks have spent a lifetime working and never had time to fish. Now that they do have the time, there just isn't a more enjoyable or rewarding activity than catching and eating fish. If they can't afford fishing tackle, get together a few fishing buddies and each put a few bucks in a kitty. Talk to the local tackle dealer and few won't give you a break on prices for such a worthy cause. Cane poles are a good starter outfit for the less active. Observe their joy as they catch fish, teach them how to clean and cook fish, and you'll know the warmth of sharing.

BROTHER TOM'S CLOSING TIP: Christ so loved fishermen that He chose four among his Twelve Apostles. That's a good enough recommendation for me. I'm goin' fishin' right now!

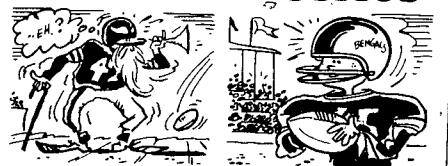

Boating Tips...

WATER IN, WATER OUT

The modern way of getting rid of unwelcome bilge water in your boat is with a small electric pump operated by an automatic switch. With one of these aboard, you never have to worry about a boat sinking during a rainstorm. Smaller electric pumps eject about 500 gallons an hour and larger ones can get rid of 1500 gallons per hour. The MerCruiser stern drive boating authorities recommend an electric bilge pump as a necessary safety feature aboard any boat that operates in rough or open water. By getting rid of rain and spray water as quickly as it comes aboard, the pump prevents water from accumulating to a point where its weight makes the boat sluggish or cranky.

Football Follies

The oldest active NFL player is Jim Marshall, Minnesota Vikings' defensive end, who will be 42 in December.

The youngest player in the NFL is the Cincinnati Bengals' Steve Kreider. The rookie wide receiver from Lehigh was 21 on May 12th.

WHO IS JUDGING THE JUDGES?

Mississippi is the only state which does not have a means of acting against judges guilty of misconduct, other than impeachment. The present impeachment method of removing judges is cumbersome and time-consuming, and the result is that it is rarely used, except in cases of flagrant misconduct.

A new constitutional amendment has been passed by both chambers of the Mississippi Legislature which will establish a Commission on Judicial Performance to investigate charges of judicial misconduct. This commission will be composed of judges, lawyers, and non-lawyers, and will make recommendations to the Mississippi Supreme Court to take action against judges who are guilty of misconduct or who fail to properly perform their duties. The Amendment will apply to all elected judges, from Justice Courts to the Supreme Court.

This amendment is widely supported by lawyers and judges as a step forward in improving our judicial system. But the amendment needs your vote to become law. When you go to the polls on November 6, vote for the constitutional amendment to create the Commission on Judicial Performance.

"I have referred to William Winter as a super-bureaucrat of the old political crowd—a lawyer who's been around government for 25 years.

- But a super-bureaucrat is not the same as a leader.
- It will take leadership to bring new high-paying jobs to Mississippi.
- It will take leadership to get voluntary private sector discounts for senior citizens on a fixed income.
- It will take leadership to get our elementary schools back in our communities and close to our families again.

William may be the best of the old political crowd. But that's not good enough. Mississippi needs a leader. And that's up to you on November 6th.

DAV handles 1,340 claims of dioxin-related poisoning

Exposure to dioxin-bearing Agent Orange and other powerfully toxic defoliants used in Southeast Asia during the Vietnam conflict has already led 1,340 Vietnam veterans to seek help from the Disabled American Veterans (DAV) in filing claims for service-connected disability benefits from the Veterans Administration (VA).

Follow-up on these inquiries and requests for claims representation is now being handled by DAV veterans' benefits experts at the 625,000-member organization's 67 National Service Offices across the United States. In addition, a system is in place at DAV National Service Headquarters in Washington, D.C., to bring all information relevant to these claims together under one roof.

Representation by DAV National Service Officers in the VA claims process is free of charge to veterans and their families.

"Claims for service-connection of disabilities that veterans believe are the result of exposure to herbicides will be extremely difficult to win," said DAV Special Projects Officer Bob Lenham, the only Vietnam veteran on the VA's Advisory Committee on the Health-Related Effects on Herbicides.

Establishment of service-connection would entitle these veterans to health care and disability benefits from the VA.

The most common symptoms attributed to dioxin poisoning include:

- Numbness in fingers, toes, arms and legs in varying degrees;

- Nervous disorders, especially loss or decrease in the sensitivity of the senses;

- Altered sex drive, including diminished sex drive or impotence among men and increased sexual activity among women;

- Psychological effects, including loss of memory, confusion, aggression or irritability;

- Skin rashes, specifically chloracne, which resembles a severe case of acne and is usually found on the face, arms, chest, back or legs;

- Cancer, particularly cancer of the liver; and

- Birth defects in children born to affected parents - primarily defects of the hands, fingers, feet and toes.

"The DAV is disappointed in the government's response to the Agent Orange question," said Lenham. "The VA and other government agencies still haven't come up with a test to detect dioxin in the body systems of veterans."

"We believe they should be looking into a number of tests that show some promise. The DAV realizes this is a difficult issue for the VA, but the government could be moving more quickly toward resolving the anxieties that the dioxin question is causing for thousands of Vietnam veterans."

Hundreds of thousands of American military personnel were exposed to toxic defoliants while fighting in Southeast Asia. Symptoms attributed to dioxin, an ingredient in some of these herbicides, are now showing up several years after exposure.

Vietnam veterans who have symptoms they feel are related to exposure to toxic defoliants in Southeast Asia should contact: National Service Headquarters, Disabled American Veterans, 807 Maine Ave., S.W., Washington, D.C. 20024.
